

A Note From Val

Aye y'all! Can you believe it, it's the friggin' Christmas time. I don't know where 2017 went, but I'm ready to start 2018.

To celebrate the season of (sometimes) shitty gift giving, I have rounded up my favorite products and services that would make great gifts for those special ladies in your life who not only helped you survive the year but motherhood.

When I was planning the guide I thought it would have a few essential items. But I what I ended up creating was an 18 page spread that covers fashion, beauty, spa, wine, wellness and even pets!

Yeah, I know that's a lot but I wanted to make sure that I gave something for everyone. Boy did I accomplish that. So enjoy browsing and don't you dare feel an ounce of guilt about buying more than one thing. Think of it this way, we buy enough shit for the kids year round, YOU (or the giftee) deserve this! Happy Shopping!
